Dear Quin,

12/8/79

As I recall it when we spoke on 11/6 as I was returning from Carolina when you mentioned this matter you said that the FBI had told you that I had claimed not to have the records whereas I do and that they did or could clobber you over this.

I could make only initial response prior to getting Flanders' letter. I then informed you that what I had actually written is that the originals were not with the unoriginals. As you can now see, the unoriginals hide much from FBIHQ. At least I think so.

It will surprise me if you hear any more about this from the FBI.

And I really do not think you will be clobbered.

If you have never given though to why the FBI destroys its notes so often after reports are typed up maybe this can give you an indication.

I can provide many more.

So now you know why he who loves scripture is in some places regarded as a devil.

Best wishes,
